

ARABIC SUMMER COURSES

AT UNC CHAPEL HILL

THE DEPARTMENT OF ASIAN STUDIES AT UNC CHAPEL HILL INVITES STUDENTS TO PARTICIPATE IN ARABIC SUMMER COURSES

- ◆ Intensive courses for introductory Arabic studies
- ◆ A full academic year (8 credit hours) will be covered over the two summer sessions
- ◆ Classes meet five days per week from 9:45 a.m.-12:45 p.m
- ◆ Visiting student application opens February 4, 2019
- ◆ Summer School registration begins March 18, 2019
- ◆ FLAS funding eligible
- ◆ Program is available to current UNC students, incoming freshmen, students from other universities, community members, and rising high school seniors

First Session (May 15-June 20)

Elementary Arabic I (ARAB 101, 4 credit hours)

Introduction to written and spoken Arabic. Includes introduction to both Modern Standard Arabic and a dialect. No prerequisite.

Second Session (June 24-July 30)

Elementary Arabic II (ARAB 102, 4 credit hours)

Continued introduction to, and development of, written and spoken Arabic skills. Prerequisite: ARAB 101 or departmental placement.

On-campus housing available on request

For more information about Arabic Studies at UNC Chapel Hill, please visit <http://asianstudies.unc.edu/programs/arabic>